Wanted—50 pounds clean cotton rags. The Banner.

Washington county—in the Land of Sunshine and Flowers.

HAY—$1 per 100 at the barn. See Postmaster J. P. Schell.

Communicated.

Sketer Level, July 4th.

Dear Banner.

How was today for hot? We see very often, "stay on the farm" and "go back to the farm" boys. Now, Mr. Editor, tell those go the farm advisers to come down and try their hand with a 24-inch scrape and bask in the arms of nature, some of these July days, and drink ditch water, and go back to town a wiser, if not a better man. If I am not fooled he would leave by the first conveyance. Should he decide to stay we will welcome him among us. We want more people here any way. All we need that we haven't got is money, people and good roads. Will some one pencil some and tell us when Sketer Level will have a good road; if this is the last one built don't all speak at once. Now, Mr. Banner man, if you don't believe we need a good road, ax yer daddy.

We think we will make a bumper corn crop in the old Valley; all that worr's us is building new barns. Tell those "back to the farm" men not to be frightened away but to come and help us eat water millions.

Can't we have our next primary election without money; plenty of democrats ready to serve without money. Why money our people out any any longer.

ANOTHER BILL.

5 or 6 doses of "666" will cure any case of Chills and Fever. Price 25c.

STRAYED. Blue sow with white list around her; marked, two splits in one ear and under-bit in other; last seen near Everitt's mill on June 24th. Any one stopping her and notifying me will be paid for their trouble. DUNCAN BLUE, R. F. D. No. 2, Chipley, Fla

A Great Service to Civilization.

With thannouncement that the arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain has been virtually agreed upon, there comes good reason for hope that ere long the principle animating the treaty will be approved and adopted by all nations.

While much has been said in connection with this treaty about the common language, laws and ancestry of the American and British people, there is as a matter of fact no more reason for arbitration between them than between any other two civilized powers. Arbitration treaties between ourselves and France, Germany and Japan may naturally enough follow. Nor is there any reason why other nations may not have similar treaties among themselves.

The menace of war that now affronts civilization is due to old-time hatreds and wrongs. All the forces of the present and all the prospects of the future promise peace. America is free from the ancient hatreds of sect or race or nation. We must therefore, take the lead for peace. What President Taft has done in this respect will count among the highest services he has rendered the Republic. And the good will of the world is with him.
